Looking for a real slice of Hoi An and central Vietnam. Look no further. This is our full-day adventure for everyone! Leave the other travelers behind and experience the diverse sights and sounds of Vietnam's country lifestyle. We travel to the base of the mountains via quiet countryside laneways, where only motorbikes can travel, avoiding the traffic on Vietnamese Highways. We visit Thap Bang Cham tower, famous US war sites, and cross the Thu Bon River by local ferry. We have lunch at a local restaurant, enjoying traditional central Vietnamese cuisine. On the return trip, we ride the unique "floating bridge" lane route, high 5 with local kids, and return home enjoying picturesque views of the sunset as it fades behind the mountains.

TESTIMONIALS

We took off on a trip through the countryside with a stop about every 30 minutes. We stopped at an ancient Cham building, a former US airbase, a floating bridge, and loads more. Our guide took us to places we would never have found ourselves.

Netherlands

This was the highlight of our trip. The scenery was stunning and we didn't see another tourist for the whole day. Our tour leader entertained us with lots of interesting information and sights and was a really interesting and energetic guy to spend a day with. We rode pillion and the riders were great, felt entirely safe and well looked after.
